

Call for Proposals

Young Academics Working Group

Doctoral Colloquium

13th Annual Conference of the Association of Cultural Management
State Academy of the Arts Düsseldorf
January 23, 2020

The Young Academics Working Group of the Association of Cultural Management would like to invite PhD and doctorate students as well as advanced students in arts and cultural Management to submit proposals for the doctoral colloquium. The colloquium is open to any thematic and methodological focus within the field of arts and cultural management.

Proposals may be submitted and presentations may be held in English or German. We warmly welcome international students as well as „work in progress“. The colloquium provides an opportunity to present your work and receive qualified feedback from the scientific community. In your proposal, please describe briefly your research topic and main research question. Additionally, we would like to ask you to state a key problem or specific issue (concerning e.g. methods, design, concept, reference to theories etc.) that you would like to discuss with peers and professors. Each presentation may take up to 15 min, followed by 15 min discussion.

Please submit your proposal (approximately 1 page) until 15th October 2019 to youngacademics@fachverband-kulturmanagement.org. On the additional cover sheet, please provide the following information: your name, (working) title of the project, supervisor, institution/university and start of the project.

The Association of Cultural Management will confirm your participation in the doctoral colloquium. If you wish to attend the full conference from 23rd-25th January 2020, you may pay the reduced conference fee.

We also would like to invite young academics to join our facebook group Fachverband Kulturmanagement PhD and Early Career Researchers.